Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claim 1-33 is allowed over prior art.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: After reviewing Applicants argument with respect to the previous 112 first paragraph rejection, Examiner has withdrawn the 112 first paragraph reject with indication that claims 1-19 contain allowable subject matter. As indicated in the previous office action claims 20-33 contain allowable subject matter.

The prior art fail to teach or suggest with respect to claim 1, verifying the non-congestion-based packet loss at sending module independently of the receipt of loss notification signals, and performing a first loss recovery procedure, different from a second loss recovery procedure associated with congestion-based packet loss, if the non-congestion-based packet loss is verified at the sending module, with respect to claim 20, a packet marking module coupled to receive PLB indications and to mark the respective previously-transmitted packets as potentially subject to PLB, and a verification module coupled to receive a packet loss indication corresponds to any of the previously-transmitted packets that have been marked, and with respect to claim 30, a packet marking module coupled to receive at least a portion of the loss notification signal and to mark the packet as potentially subject to non-congestion based packet loss, and copying as many bytes from the non-congestion packet loss as can fit in the signal protocol packet in the network layer packet, setting a slow start threshold equal to a number of packets in flight until packet loss is acknowledged, dropping the signaling protocol packet if transport layer protocol in next header field is not among predetermined group of transport layer protocols, identifying a transport protocol in a
